Chris Mumm is a shareholder at the firm, focusing his practice on the areas of Corporate Finance/M&A and Business Law. He has broad experience with complex corporate and business law issues and represents clients especially with respect to capital structuring, corporate financing transactions (including private placements and mergers and acquisitions), contract and employment law matters, entity formation and state and federal securities law compliance.

Chris's experience includes a wide range of transactional matters in both domestic and international settings. He has worked with a range of entities from basic partnerships and limited liability companies to publicly traded corporations. He has also participated in matters before the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), the U.S. District Court and District Court in Minnesota.

In addition to being an attorney, Chris has prior experience as a licensed investment banker, which affords him the opportunity to pair his legal background with his financial expertise. This unique combination of knowledge and experience gives clients an opportunity to benefit from strategic advice in both law and finance in regard to executive-level decision making, corporate structuring, financial modeling and effective deal management. Chris is actively involved in the finance community and helps businesses create, adapt and refine their various offering documents and investor presentations.

Chris graduated cum laude from the University of Minnesota Law School. He completed his undergraduate work at Concordia College in Moorhead, Minnesota where he graduated magna cum laude.
